

With George Vierhus

TICKY-TACKY was the expression used at a recent Planning Commission meeting to describe some of the monotonous-styled houses that have been built in recent years.

Dick Hogan, planning director, had suggested that by modifying the existing regulations pertaining to yard requirements, the looks of new houses might be improved.

This would help, Dick commented, in getting away from the "ticky-tacky" houses that sometimes are forced to go on the lots because of the present requirements.

He illustrated his point by drawing a house situated on an angle on a lot which allowed the same amount of yard space as if the house was straight but in different spots.

This idea of Dick's was greeted with mixed feelings by the commissioners. Acting on Chairman Thayer Lyon's suggestion they decided to discuss it at the same study session when they were chewing on new controls for service stations.

Almost all of us knew what was meant by "ticky-tacky", despite the fact apparently that Webster hasn't caught up with such a compound yet.

ASA DEALER in words, we are always interested in such goings-on.

Our friend Webster had, of course, "tick-tack". We learned that this could be a device for tapping on windows; an old form of backgammon or a noise resembling a clock.

Then there is "tick-tack-toe", a game in which two players take turns making either crosses or circles in a block of nine squares.

Our research also revealed that there were eight listings for "tick", including a blood-sucking insect; a light pat; a cloth case; to purchase on credit and, the one we liked best, "bird or whinchat".

Then there was "tack" which included a small nail; changing course or a stain.

"Tacky" was listed as 'dowdy or shabby'.

But no "ticky". Still it is a good expression and we'll go along with it, even if Webster doesn't.

RESPONSE to The Campbell Press campaign for summer jobs for youngsters between 14 and 18 years of age has been gratifying. Up to a point.

Our woman's editor, Grace Hebard, as well as the newspaper has been commended by many for undertaking such a project.

Unfortunately compliments alone won't make the wheels go around.

The response from business and professional people has not

Few jobs trickle in

by Grace Hebard

The drive to find summer jobs for West Valley boys and girls continues at The Campbell Press. Letters and phone calls from teenagers looking for jobs are still coming in. Any businessman or woman in the area who has a job to offer, is urged to call The Press on Mondays or Fridays. The number is 378-9136.

One more Campbell youth is working part-time this summer, due to the job offer of Chuck Burket, proprietor of Diamond Quality Reproductions, 1715 S. Bascom Ave.

The summer is now hitting the "long stretch", and youngsters will be getting restless and bored. Residents can help by "creating jobs" where young people can learn responsibility, and the first flush of success.

The Press recognizes that there are many teen-agers already employed by local businessmen and housewives are hiring the neighbor's youngsters.

Misner 'applies' for sheriff job

Gordon E. Misner, of 3304 Merrimac Dr., an unsuccessful candidate for county sheriff three years ago who polled 50,000 votes, has notified the supervisors by letter that he is available for the position should Sheriff John Gibbons resign in the near future.

In his letter, Misner, an assistant professor in police education at San Jose State, suggested that rumors persist that Sheriff Gibbons would resign before his term was up. Gibbons has previously indicated that he would not seek reelection.

Tom Perry to go on Planning Commission

A college instructor with 16 years of prior banking experience will be the newest member of the Planning Commission as a result of City Council action on Monday night.

E. Thomas (Tom) Perry, 52, of 1171 Lenor Way, was the unanimous choice of the councilmen and becomes the first appointment under the newly-inaugurated policy of filling vacancies on a city commission from a list of applicants. Prior appointments have been made through council initiative.

He fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Ed Stojanovich in May of this year.

Perry was selected from a list of 10 applicants who had indicated their desire to serve on the Planning Commission. Each one of the

INTERESTED IN TRAFFIC SIGNALS--

At a special budget meeting held last Thursday, a delegation of residents in the Rincon-Winchester area put in a pitch for traffic signals at the Winchester and Rincon intersection. They said that crossing the street there had become increasingly hazardous because of the heavy traffic. Council members indicated that they are sympathetic to the situation and allocated $30,000 for traffic signalization in next year's budget of which $18,000 would be for traffic signalization in next year's budget of which $18,000 would be for installation of traffic signals along

More cuts to come?

Council ok's city budget as C. of C. fights for $$$

A preliminary budget totalling $1,764,370 was adopted by the City Council Monday night at a meeting highlighted by pleas from Chamber of Commerce officials that the city's subsidy to that organization not be cut from the $9000 allocated this year.

The C. of C. officials claimed that the chamber's effectiveness would be greatly curtailed by a reduced subsidy. Involved in the discussion also was the question of whether the Old Settlers celebration should be dropped as a C. of C. function because of its time-consuming problems.

But before the adoption of the preliminary budget, City Manager Bob Stephens warned the council that before the final budget was adopted on August 23, further cuts would have to be made in order for the city to maintain a healthy cash reserve. The preliminary budget only shows a projected reserve of $210,106 compared to an estimated $599,638 at the close of this fiscal year.

The present preliminary budget also does not include any raises for city employees, it was emphasized.

The adoption of the budget climaxed a series of almost daily budget sessions conducted by the council extending to Monday's meeting when Chamber of Commerce representatives made their second pitch for a $9000 allocation, the same as last year.

In the final action before the adoption of the budget, the council reduced the C. of C. allocation to $7500 by a 4-1 vote. Mayor Charles Rose cast the dissenting vote. He felt in face of other necessary cuts, the C. of C. subsidy should be reduced further.

Councilman Ed Rogers, although voting for the $7500 figure, fought for a lower amount throughout the discussion. Rogers claimed that $9000 was out of line in comparison to allocations made by comparable cities.

Rogers held out for a $2000 cut to $7000. But he went along with the compromise of $7500 offered by Councilmen Bob McElroy and Ralph Doetsch. Rogers served notice, however, that he would ask for another $1500 reduction next year.

A motion by Councilman Bill Smeed that an allocation of $1000 be made to the Junior Chamber of Commerce to allow that organization to carry out various community projects lost by a 3-2 vote with McElroy, Rogers and Rose voting against Smeed and Doetsch.

The discussion over the allocation for the Chamber of Commerce on Monday marked the second time that C. of C. officials had appeared to fight for the $9000. Last Thursday, Bill Oltmann, C. of C. treasurer, carried the ball in describing the $19,000 operating budget of the Chamber of which the city furnished $9000 or about 45%. No action was taken by the council at that time.

Paul Landwehr, manager of the C. of C. appeared before the council prior to the regular meeting on Monday to continue the arguments that had been presented on Thursday.

Other C. of C. directors, including Dick Bersano, Jack Dawson, former president; Dick

Concession stand is burglarized

The concession stand operated by the Campbell-Moreland Pony League at Rincon Park was broken into last week and approximately $50 worth of candy, soft drinks and gum stolen. A small amount of change was also missing.

Off-street parking plans get airing

What could be the beginning of Campbell's first off-street parking district could develop from the meeting tonight at the City Hall of members of the Downtown Redevelopment Committee, headed by John E. Faber, of the Campbell Memorial Chapel.

The meeting is called for 8 p. m. in the council chambers.

City Manager Bob Stephens informed the City Council Monday that the engineering firm of Creagan and D'Angelo will review with committee members the proposed parking district. Stephens said that the appraisal of all the property that would be included in such a district has been completed.

Stephens and Planning Director Dick Hogan will also review with the committee the proposed master plan for the downtown area.

The city manager told the City Council that he was hopeful that the basis of the formation of an off-street parking district could result from the meeting on Wednesday. "We hope that the Redevelopment Committee will assume the initiative in discussing the off-street parking district plan with their fellow property owners and tenants in the area," Stephens added.

WILL IT HIT '100'?

A unique time and temperature contest is being sponsored by the 11 merchants that make up the Campbell Plaza Merchants Association at Winchester Blvd. and Budd Ave. All one has to do is guess the time that the temperature will hit 100 degrees. The clock at the First National Bank (above) in the center will stop mechanically when the thermometer hits that high mark. The contest is limited to adults who are allowed one guess per day. The guess must be submitted 36 hours before the date. Entry cards can be obtained from any store in the center. Prizes totaling $175 will be awarded with the first prize being $100. Firms participating include, Campbell Plaza Bottle Shop; Campbell Plaza Drugs; Safeway Stores; U.I.P. Coiffures; Hobby Center; Campbell Plaza Cleaners; Helen's Infants Wear; Royal Coachman; Colleen's; First National Bank and Luoto's. When the above photo was taken last Friday, the temperature registered a neat 58-degrees, along way from the goal. But since that time the mercury has soared. After all it is getting close to the Fourth of July and 58-degrees is ridiculous.

So long, Bill; Welcome, Neal;

Today (June 30) marks a milestone for the Campbell Union (elementary) School District. Today is officially the last day that William C. Henley will serve as district superintendent, a position he has occupied since 1944.

Tomorrow, July 1, Neal Royer, who has been assistant superintendent for the past nine years, assumes the superintendency.

Since Henley's decision to retire was made known, thousands of words have been written about him and his record in the local school district which during his tenure has grown from one school with 1000 students to 19 schools with almost 11,000.

On June 3 more than 500 friends and associates of Henley gathered at the county fairgrounds to pay honor to the retiring superintendent.

Thus it is difficult to find new words to express our admiration of the educator who has served his community so well during the trials and tribulations brought about by the growth explosion.

But we know that today for Bill Henley must be something special.

It is the date set more than six months ago, so by no means can it be classified as a "spur of the moment" decision.

It is a day that Bill then knew was coming long in advance. But we know that no matter how well the guy thinks he has prepared for the bowing out, it will not be easy. One cannot leave a 21-year chapter of one's life without pangs of one degree or another.

We imagine that Bill's emotions must be mixed on this day which surely must be classified as one of the most eventful in his life. It would be only natural for him to be somewhat relieved to know that no longer need the final decision on school matters rest with him. It will be up to Neal now.

We know also that Bill must feel quite sad in leaving those same responsibilities which have made his job so trying during the years but, at the same time, so rewarding.

Henley's record as superintendent of the local district is one of which he can be justifiably proud. It has been marked by integrity, honor and devotion to the welfare of the children, the employees and the citizens of the district.

During his 21 years at the helm, the district has built an excellent reputation for a quality educational program and has attracted top-quality teachers. An unusual aspect is that despite the tremendous growth and the need for more teachers there have been year after year many more applications in teaching jobs than there have been vacancies.

While we know that Bill must be mighty proud of the record of the school district over the past 21 years, we think we echo the sentiment of the citizens of the district who are also proud of the school district and the guy who has headed it since 1944.

We think also that it speaks well for the district that the person who is succeeding Henley as superintendent has been his right-arm for the past nine years. Neal Royer, who has "gone through the chairs" in the district, from teacher to vice-principal, to principal to assistant superintendent, is well qualified to step into the shoes of the retiring superintendent.

We are quite proud of the fact that Henley recommended Royer as his successor and that the trustees unhesitatingly and unanimously appointed Neal to the position.

We think this indicates how smoothly and efficiently the local district has operated. All of Royer's teaching and administrative experience as an educator has been in the Campbell district, so he is well aware of the problems that exist.

A major responsibility of Royer's job as assistant superintendent has been budget control. He also has been responsible for the district control of purchasing. Another major responsibility of the assistant has been in the recruiting, hiring and in-service training of personnel.

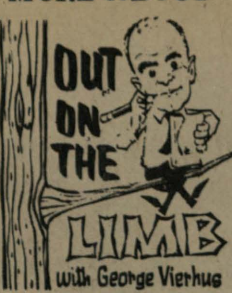

Thus the new superintendent takes over with a well-grounded knowledge of the entire educational picture of the local district. Neal, also like Bill, has taken an active part in community as well as school activities.

We feel that the district is fortunate in having a man of the caliber of Neal Royer step into the shoes of Bill Henley.

So long, Bill; welcome, Neal.

Basically what The Press has offered to do is to act as sort of a "clearing house". Youngsters interested in obtaining summer employment have been asked to register at The Press on Monday or Friday.

Then business or professional people were asked to see if they could find room in their establishments for a youngster or two for as many hours per week as possible, paying the minimum hourly rate.

It was felt that this would serve a two-fold purpose. The youngsters could maybe pick up some pin money, of course, but more important it would provide them with a worthwhile objective for the summer months.

We recall thousands of years ago when we were a teenager how frustrating it was not to have anything to do during the summer months. We liked the idea, of course, of having the respite from school books. But it got pretty boring by the time the vacation days were over. In fact we looked forward to getting back to the grind of school.

We recall also that we became a pest at the weekly newspaper office where we didn't get any money but we did get "warped" and were "marred" for the rest of our life.

But you know, we have had no regrets over this "warping". And it could be another sort of indirect benefit (to use the term loosely) from this job campaign of The Press.

Who knows but some youngster by being exposed to a certain profession or business during the summer months would decide to make it his life work. And this would be satisfying to the employer.

We have a sneaking hunch that the late Mr. E. S. Gray, the publisher of our hometown newspaper years and years ago, was pleased to know that the little shaver that hung around his joint got infested with "printer's ink" to such an extent that he was never able to get rid of it.

BUT TO GET BACK to our original premise.

The Press still thinks the idea of job placements for youngsters is a bang-up idea.

If for nothing else but that the youngsters themselves seemed to go for it.

Grace has a long list of boys and girls in the 14-18 age bracket. But only has received a few assignments.

To Mrs. Roy Archibald, of 751 Briarwood, goes the credit for the first job offer. She had a painting assignment which Grace filled with Jerry Schoenberger. She sent Pete Giorgianni to a job as "saddle-stitcher" that Chuck Burket of Diamond Quality Reproduction listed. The Rev. A. E. (Kit) Carson also informed Grace about two openings as camp counselors.

But our Grace can use more such jobs, for she has the youngsters registered.

We are getting to know the youth pretty well in our community through our limited efforts.

Some made excellent impressions when they

City Hall briefs

City councilmen on Monday night upheld two rulings of the Planning Commission and tossed out all bids for buildings at the corporation yard because they were too high.

* Despite the opposition of the applicant, the council unanimously agreed with the Planning Commission recommendation that placed R-2 and R-3 zoning on property located on the northwest corner of W. Campbell Ave. The property is owned by Ann Russo and the applicant had asked for commercial zoning.

In another action the council upheld the Planning Commission in a sign request for Blendwell Interiors. The Planners had approved two signs on the building but rejected the request for a revolving sign on a pole high above the building. The council agreed unanimously with the commission.

Three bids were submitted for the building at the corporation yard and the lowest bid was $4360 above the estimate for the job. The estimate was for $13,000 and the low bid was $17,360. The Council decided that the job should go to bid again and rejected all three.

In other actions, the council:

Hardy, president and Ted Regas, former president, spoke in favor of the $9000 figure.

A difference of opinion developed between Regas and the other directors over whether the C. of C. could operate on a curtailed budget. Regas thought that the Chamber could "live with" a $2000 cut while Dawson, after consulting with Landwehr, maintained that there was not place to cut the C. of C. proposed budget.

The problem of what to do with the Old Settlers celebration was tossed around by the directors and the councilmen. All agreed that it was fine to have such a celebration but sponsoring it was a headache.

Smeed suggested that the Jaycees might take it over. He asked if the C. of C. did not have to worry about the celebration, could their budget be reduced. It was explained that the celebration was self-supporting financially but its elimination would only save the manager's time but not money.

Mayor Rose in expressing his opposition to the size of the subsidy explained that all departments of the city had to be cut because the city's income was not increasing as rapidly as the expenses.

On the final vote on the preliminary budget after the $7500 C. of C. allocation was added, Smeed cast the lone negative vote.

But that's the way the ball bounces for adults, too.

Building takes spurt in city during May

By the end of May this year building permits issued by the City of Campbell had exceeded the same period of last year by $1,312,844.25 in valuation, according to the building department.

During May there was a tremendous spurt in the issuance of single family dwelling permits with 18 being issued for a valuation of $263,250. In contrast during April, however, there were no permits for single family dwellings. During May there was also a boom in multiple units. Two permits were issued totalling $896,521 for 128 units. There were no multiple permits obtained in April. Other permits issued during May included four for commercial for $72,968; two for industrial for $77,803; two swimming pools for $19,000 and 10 for alterations and additions for $12,495.

In April two commercial permits for $94,000 provided almost all the activity on Iada on W. Campbell Ave. to operate until November 1, although the operation is in violation of a city ordinance which prohibits such stands unless the products are grown on the location. Iada said he was unaware of the prohibition and wished to continue until the fruit season was over.

The building department revealed also that since the first of the year, on the condemnation front, 12 legal notices involving 39 structures were issued. One structure is in the process of demolition or repair and seven structures have been demolished this year already. The department has made 24 condemnation inspections this year.

MR. AND MRS. CLARK I. DANIEL (Lynda Faulkner)

Beautiful evening rites unite Lynda Faulkner and Clark Daniel

Yellow and white chrysanthemums and carnations decorated the Congregational Church of Campbell for the wedding of Miss Lynda Kay Faulkner and Clark I. Daniel. The Rev. Edward Cunningham officiated at the double ring-evening ceremony which was attended by approximately 160 friends and relatives.

The petite bride was attired in a beautiful floor length gown styled with a basque bodice of Alencon lace and a bouffant silk organza skirt with detachable train. Her veil of silk illusion was held in place by a Dior rose edged in tiny pearls. Her only jewelry was a pearl pendant, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade of stephanotis with satin streamers centered with two white orchids.

Miss Rebecca Putnam of San Jose was the maid of honor. Her yellow sheath gown featured fullness and a large bow. Her head-dress was a yellow tulle shoulder-length veil and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses and carnations with white satin bows and streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Roy Ise, sister of the bride; Miss Shelley Hancock and Miss Glenys Rickel. They wore yellow sheaths and matching veils styled the same as the maid of honor and carried bouquets of yellow roses and carnations with yellow ribbons.

Curt Kinseth of San Jose served as best man and ushers were David Langhoff and David Cobbledick of Sunnyvale, and Walter Ruby of San Mateo. Mrs. Richard Fields sang several selections before the ceremony.

Following the nuptials a reception was held in the Fireside Room of the church where the newlyweds cut a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with tiny yellow bows. The couple sojourned down the Southern California coast for their wedding trip and are now at home at 3918 W. Hamilton Ave., San Jose.

Lynda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Faulkner, 214 W. Rosemary Lane, Campbell. She is a graduate of Campbell

High School and is now employed as a secretary for Van Vleck Realty. In June 1964 she was "Miss West Santa Clara Valley" in the California preliminary "Miss America" Pageant at Santa Cruz. She has been active in drama and entertainment circles in the area for the past five years.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Parton of Berthoud, Colorado. He is a graduate of Abraham Lincoln High School and attended San Jose State College. He served four years with the U. S. Air Force and is now employed in Sunnyvale.

TO VISIT SWITZERLAND - Mary Beyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beyer of 294 S. California St., leaves on July 3 for a year's stay in Switzerland, in a student exchange program sponsored by the First Methodist Church of Campbell.

Mary Beyer to spend year in Switzerland

Mary Beyer, a June graduate of Campbell High School, has been practicing German very diligently these past few weeks, in preparation for a year's stay in Switzerland. The First Methodist Church of Campbell is sponsoring her trip to St. Gallen, Switzerland, where she will live with the Rauh family. She will attend school and help with the family chores, and expects to become "part of the family."

Mary has promised to write to The Campbell Press her impressions of St. Gallen.

Another Campbell family, Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Lackmann, 1484 Westmont Ave., will have an Austrian girl as their house guest this year. This student exchange program of the Methodist Church is a "good will" project which is expected to further friendly relations and understanding between countries.

Adventists return from encampment

Scores of Seventh-day Adventists from the Campbell area who left 10 days ago to attend their 87th annual encampment at Soquel are returning home this week.

They report attendance had a widely varied group of meetings and training sessions presided over by Adventist leaders from their world headquarters in Washington, D.C. The conclave was sponsored and directed by the Central California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists with headquarters in San Jose.

California Girls State is part of a great national youth-in-government program which is sponsored annually by the American Legion Auxiliary, in which all states participate. It is a direct effort by the American Legion Auxiliary to provide citizenship training for a selected group of high school girls, chosen by their school administrators for their qualifications of leadership, scholarship and interest in government.

Grange enjoys style show

Father's Day was observed at the last meeting of Orchard City Grange with an unusual style show. The feminine members of the Grange dressed in men's attire and displayed what the well-dressed hunter, horseback rider, baseball player, French tourist, hobo, business man, and Liberace will wear this season. The hilarious program closed with a Father's Day vocal solo by Myrtle Giesell. Refreshments were served in the dining room by the following committee members: Mrs. Margaret Coe, Mrs. Mamie Benevento, Mrs. Mable Draper, Mrs. Marie Hendricks.

Marlene Arnold engaged to Jerry Summers

Thirty relatives and friends gathered at the Floyd Arnold home on Monica Lane last week to learn of the engagement of their youngest daughter, Marlene, to Jerry L. Summers of San Jose. A prettily decorated cake in pink and white, and floral arrangements at the refreshment table and on the fireplace added a note of festivity to the occasion.

Marlene is a June graduate of Campbell High School and is enrolled at San Jose College of Dental and Medical Assistants. Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Summers of San Jose and is employed at Arnolds Shell Service. No date has been set for the wedding.

Special guest at the engagement party was Marlene's sister, Mrs. Ray Erk and two children, visiting here from Battle Creek, Michigan.

Mrs. Muriel Lester and Carl Coe, John Benevento and Larry Hendricks. There were 102 members present.

The Pomona Grange will meet at the local Grange Hall on Saturday, July 3. San Jose Grange will be host. The next meeting of the Orchard City Grange will be held on July 13. A program will be presented by the Youth Grangers under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Upson, Youth Grange Advisors.

ELECTED—E. Jackson Going, Jr., a San Jose civil engineer, has been elected president of Hope for Retarded Children & Adults, Inc. The non-profit organization aids retarded children and young adults throughout Santa Clara County.

Water firms get ok to hike rate to offset new pump tax

Two water companies serving the Campbell area, Campbell Water Co., and San Jose Water Works, and the California Water Service Co., another Santa Clara County utility, have been authorized higher rates by the California Public Utilities Commission.

The increase in rates is to offset the hike in pump taxes that go into effect July 1 by the Santa Clara Flood Control and Water District and Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District.

All three utilities obtain all or most of their water supplies from wells. Present pump taxes of $5 and $2.25, respectively, per acre-foot payable to the County and Valley districts, will be $5 and $2.60, starting July 1. The corresponding taxes of $10 by County and $8.85 by the Valley districts for non-agricultural water extractions will be raised to $16 and $9.20, respectively.

With regard to each utility the Commission found that the pump tax offset would not produce a higher rate of return than previously authorized. It said public hearings were not necessary.

The new rates may be made effective on July 1 or the date of filing new tariffs, whichever is later.

For the Campbell Water Co. the increased pump taxes of $16,000 will be offset by the higher rates. For typical residential usage of 1700 cubic feet per month, the average bill will increase 28 cents, from $5.74 to $6.02. The utility supplies service to 3800 customers within an area of 2 1/2-square miles in or near Campbell.

For the San Jose Water works the increased pump taxes will amount to $430,000 per year. The utility serves 117,000 customers in 112 square miles in Santa Clara County, in or in the vicinity of Campbell, Cupertino, Los Gatos, Monte Sereno, San Jose, Santa Clara and Saratoga. About 6/7 of its water supply comes from wells and is subject to pump tax.

The increase for general metered service will be from 24 cents to 25.3 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 30,000 cubic feet of water delivered. For amounts over 30,000 cubic feet the raise will be from 21 to 22.3 cents per 100 cubic feet. For a typical residential customer using 1700 cubic feet per month the increase will be 22 cents per month.

AQUEDUCT--Workers weld together sections of steel discharge pipe with an inside measurement of 18 feet in diameter. Six such pipes at San Luis Division of the California Aqueduct will discharge 10 billion gallons of water each day from Mile 18 Pumping Plant into the Aqueduct. Water will flow through the pipes southward to enable delivery by the State Water Project to South San Joaquin Valley. The water will be lifted 125 feet by the Mile 18 Pumping Plant. The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation is constructing San Luis Division facilities for joint Federal-State use.

Program Thursday dedicates South Bay Aqueduct system

A milestone in California water history will be written 10 a. m. Thursday, July 1, at San Jose when hundreds of statewide government, water and civic leaders gather for dedication of the $51 million South Bay Aqueduct and the $42 million Santa Clara County Distribution System.

Governor Edmund G. Brown will deliver the address and open a valve at the Penitencia Creek Facility which will begin the first delivery of water at the end of a completed aqueduct of the $2 billion-plus State Water Project.

Sig Sanchez, chairman, Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors will dedicate the distribution system which will bring Project water to Santa Clara Valley residents.

Other Speakers will include E. F. Dibble, president, Feather River Project Association; William E. Warner, director, State Department of Water Resources and Hugo Fisher, administrator, State Resources Agency.

"The Drunkard" opens Friday

The San Jose Actors Repertoire Theater at 25 W. San Salvador St. in San Jose will present a summer program of Classic-American Melodrama opening July 2 with "The Drunkard" under the direction of Paul B. Santos of the West Valley Light Opera Association. "The Drunkard" will be shown July 2, 3, 9, 10.

College board okays budget; seeks court action on funds

West Valley College Board of Trustees last week adopted a tentative 1965-66 budget of $4,457,038 and then voted to seek a court decision as to the availability of some of the funds involved in its action last June 8 in transferring $1.3 million into a special reserve fund for site acquisition and campus development.

Cost of instruction in the proposed budget, largely because of anticipated enrollment increases and the hiring of 30 additional instructors, was raised from $850,823 in 1964-65 to a proposed $1,394,427 for 1965-66.

A public hearing on the proposed budget will be held in early August. If adopted in its present form, the budget will necessitate a junior college district tax increase from the present 54.2 to 64.6 cents, according to an estimate by Dean of Business Services James P. Hardy.

Trustee Jack Armstrong stated flatly that the higher tax "is a direct result of the defeat of the district's $17.8 million bond proposal last April."

Need for the court decision on the $1.3 million general fund transfer, according to Wallace W. Hall, West Valley president, arises from a communication from C.R. Timpany, County Superintendent of Schools, saying he was "unable to grant your request" for the transfer.

The Timpany letter argued that some of the funds proposed for transfer are some general funds, which he has already transferred to the Restricted Tuition Tax Fund and earmarked for payment to other junior college districts where some West Valley students are now attending. The county superintendent said his office would treat "interdistrict attendance agreements as current liabilities thereby encumbering current funds."

The district's contention is that the Education Code section in question (EC25541.5) permits a district to levy a tax for the payment of tuition in the year following the year in which the obligation is incurred.

The office of State Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch concurs in the district contention, Dr. Hall said, in an informal opinion. The Santa Clara county counsel also concurs in the district contention and has agreed to represent the district in any court test.

Several persons in the audience objected to the fund transfer and the proposed budget, notably Dale Scott, executive secretary of the Santa Clara County Taxpayer's Association and the Rev. Ward McCabe, pastor of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Santa Clara. John Magee and Dr. William Wasserman, both of Los Gatos, urged adoption of the budget, even though a tax increase might be involved.

In a short time the dimes, quarters and half-dollars you jingle in your pocket or coin purse will have a different ring. The current shortage of silver has made it necessary for President Johnson to ask Congress for the authority to reduce the silver content of our coins. Congress will act firmly and speedily because changing the people's money is a touchy business and delay could cause complications.

But even though there will be little disagreement in the Congressional debate the transition to the new silver coinage will not be without numerous headaches.

For one thing Congress will not be able to repeal the age-old "Gresham's Law" that "good" money is driven out of circulation by cheaper or "bad" money. This longtime law of economics can be explained with this example: If a 50¢ piece with a high silver content is placed alongside another half dollar with a lower intrinsic value, it is only human nature that we spend the cheaper coin and save the one with the higher intrinsic value. Thus the "good" coin is driven out of circulation.

Considering that one of the purposes of President Johnson's recommendations is to alleviate the very serious coin shortage which has been a nightmare to most businessmen, the prospective operation of Gresham's Law may serve to cancel out much of the hoped for advantage. Today we have about $2 1/4 billion of coins in circulation and much of this coin is likely to be hoarded. Though the President will have the authority to issue regulations to prevent people from melting down coins for the purpose of selling their silver content at a profit when the price of silver inevitably goes up, people will tend to hoard today's coins simply because they know of their value. Furthermore, today's silver money will become vintage coins and collectors will immediately start paying a premium for them knowing they will become rare and scarce. These two factors are likely to produce an even more drastic coin shortage than we have today.

A possible answer is to add a small quantity of some rare metal other than silver to the new coins. This will keep the intrinsic value of new and old coins at parity and avoid the operation of Gresham's Law. This amendment to the President's bill will be proposed and I shall vote for it.

Another little known fact about this solution for our coin shortage is that the government will make a huge windfall from "seigniorage". This is the profit the Treasury will make on the difference between the face value of its new coins and what it costs to make them. Under the new system there will be at least 40¢ profit on each 50¢ piece. So, replacing present coins will yield a profit of $1.7 Billion to Uncle Sam. During the next three years there will be an additional profit from the manufacture of additional coins.

BOYSVILLE - Swimming in this filtered and heated swimming pool is one of the many facilities at "Boysville", the summer camp for boys between the ages of 8 and 14, sponsored by the Campbell Optimist Club. The local club is hoping to send "50 needy boys" to Boysville for a week's vacation this summer.

Optimists sponsor summer camp

Have you had the privilege of attending a summer camp as a young boy? Wasn't it a wonderful experience?

The Campbell Optimist Club is sponsoring its first annual program called "One Hundred Boys to Boysville." They have a waiting list of needy boys between the ages of 8 and 14 who are looking forward to attending summer camp this year. The Optimists urge responsible residents and business men from this area to help send a boy to camp.

Boysville is owned and operated by the National Foundation for Boys, Inc., sponsored by the Optimist Clubs of the Bay Area. It is located near La Honda on San Gregorio Road. Only $36.50 will give a boy of your choice a full week of healthy food, proper leadership and worthwhile creative outdoor experiences to cherish through the years. There are accommodations for 100 boys.

The local club's goal is $1800 which will send 50 boys to camp. Persons interested in assisting this project are asked to contact the Campbell Optimist Club, P. O. Box 335, Campbell or telephone 251-3072.

reduced by using a proper hitch and by suitable weight distribution in both car and trailer. The hitch should be securely mounted—preferably to the frame—and must be strong enough for the weight drawn. It must be supplemented by a safety chain between vehicles.

"If the trailer or its load obscures your view to the rear, two side mirrors are required on the towing vehicle to provide a clear view at least 200 feet to the rear.

"In mountain driving on two-lane roads, slower moving vehicles are required to pull into marked turnouts whenever five or more vehicles are lined up.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

Q. I have been in the service since 1951. My statement of earnings shows no credits prior to January 1957. Why didn't I get credit for the first 6 years of my service Career?

A. Service in the armed forces was not covered by social security until January, 1957. However, if you were on active duty on and after December 31, 1956, you receive "free" credits of $160 a month for any service from 1951 through 1956. Check with the social security office for further information.

Q. My wife and I are both over 65 and have not paid income tax for several years. My only source of income is from a farm which I recently purchased, and I expect a net profit of about $1,100 for 1965. Do I have to file on my farm self-employment or is it optional?

A. According to the Internal Revenue tax law, you must file a farm schedule and regular tax return if your gross profit is $600 or more and your net profit is $400 or more. You would be required to pay social security tax on your $1,100 net profit even though no income tax is due.

Q. I started receiving social security payments early in 1961. At that time the Social Security Office gave me instructions as to how much money I could earn and still receive my social security. Did the 1961 changes alter this information? If so, what should I do about it?

A. Yes, a change was made in the retirement test provisions by the 1961 Amendments to the Social Security Act. If you earn no more than $1200 you will receive all rity. If you earn between $1200 and $1700, one dollar of social security will be withheld for every two dollars of earnings. One who earns $1700 during the year will usually have $250 of social security benefits withheld. You should call at the nearest social security office for further information.

Q. I have not worked for several years, but I rent out an apartment and live on that income.

Can I report the rental for social security credit?

A. Probably not, because rentals from real estate (unless you are a real estate dealer) are not covered by social security.

West Valley College names officers for faculty senate

First president of the newly-formed faculty senate at West Valley College is a 40-year-old chemistry instructor from San Jose. He is Lester V. Smith Jr., of 5780 Chandler Court, San Jose. Early this month Smith was awarded the doctor of philosophy degree at the University of the Pacific.

Dr. Smith, and other officers voted into office this week by the faculty, will administer the affairs of a nine-member senate, all of whom were elected, in turn, by a majority faculty vote.

"As stated in our constitution," Dr. Smith said, "the senate's broad function shall be to accept our responsibility as essential participants in both making and carrying out decisions on educational policy. This is in accordance with a mandate by the California Legislature and the State Board of Education."

The actual senate, Smith said, "is our chance to do something positive about making available to the college the judgement of the faculty."

Other elected officers include: Joseph T. Livingstone, instructor in electronics and tennis coach, vice-president; Mrs. Barbara Lea, co-chairman of the Division of Business Education, secretary.

Besides Smith, Livingstone and Mrs. Lea, other elected members of the senate include William Deal, instructor in political science; Mrs. Betty Tusup, counselor; Larry Swenson, counselor and psychology; Melvin Tuscher, mathematics; Jack Pease, mathematics; David P. Tipton, speech.

Not included in the figures are an estimated 400 students enrolled in ten institutes, five supported by the National Science Foundation and five by provisions of the National Defense Education Act.

Several special workshops will also be in session during one and two-week periods during the regular session.
